Habitat Homes is based just north of Brisbane, and is planning property developments in South-East Queensland and northern New South Wales.

The licensed builder and draughtsman behind this company, has been building quality properties for ... years. He saw a dire need for a home building company that does not cut corners on costs of materials like so many others, while still maintaining housing affordability.

It is his dream to see that Habitat Home's new property developments create sustainable communities for people – to suit the location and the lifestyles of the intended owners and the unique Queensland/Northern NSW climate.

The use of quality finishes and fixtures will ensure that the finished home is a quality product that will stand the test of time.

Whether you are a new home buyer or a property investor, Habitat Homes provide a hassle-free construction phase. As an investor purchasing a new home, you can save thousands when calculating depreciation benefits and enjoy the lowest state stamp duties in the nation (in Queensland). And for first home buyers, you now have access to the $21,000 Government grant as well as stamp duty exemptions for houses under $500,000 (valid until June 2009).

How We Work

Habitat Homes has developed close relationships with quality builders and real estate agencies over the past decade to ensure quality developments are offered to the market at affordable prices. We have delivered these projects on time and on budget.

Habitat Homes is staffed by energetic designers with a passion for cost-effective design.

With today's high cost of land, multi residential, townhouse and small lot houses are the best option to condense the urban footprint and allow young people to enter the property market. So Habitat Homes focuses on modern housing developments that meet the urgent need for condensed housing at a reasonable price.
